TEN CENTS A WEEK

INSURGENTS LINING UP FOR ROUGH HOUSE

Cannon Against Allied Forces of Democrats and Disgruntled Republicans to Amend Rules.

(By Tav, Special Correspondent The Daily Sun.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—The new President of the United States is working hand in hand with Uncle Joe.

Uncle Joe is working hand in hand with Dalzell and Payne and Aldrich. So the new line-up runs like this: Taft, Uncle Joe, Dalzell, Payne and Aldrich.

The men whose cause President Taft is championing through all the avenues at his command save one (a public statement endorsing Speaker Cannon) represent that clique in Congress that are not in sympathy with the kind of tariff revision wanted by the American people.

Speaker Cannon's views on tariff revision need not be elucidated. In the past he has been an obstructionist. Senator Aldrich is an extreme "stand-patter," which, properly translated, means "don't make any changes in the tariff that will interfere with the profits of manufacturers having monopolies on commodities." Mr. Dalzell is the author of the now famous declaration: "I see no need of any revision whatever at this time."

Previous to the last national election the impression was allowed to go out that there had been a break between Mr. Taft and Uncle Joe. About that time Cannonism was not popular. Taft's alleged coolness toward Speaker Cannon was played so strong by the campaign managers there were not a few even in the Republican ranks who believed there had been a genuine break.

All of which now appears to have been a clever piece of acting. Where does Mr. Taft really stand as to Speaker Cannon?

When the House insurgents made a noise like amalgamating with the Democrats to change the rules, the manipulation of which by Uncle Joe have been so disastrous to desirable legislation, Mr. Taft showed his hand for the first time since taking office. He sent his man, Postmaster-General Hitchcock, out to work for the Speaker. President Taft did all things possible to prevent the insurgents from accomplishing a reform of the rules.

President Taft wants it understood he doesn't believe there would be any harm particularly in amending the rules. But he expressed the belief that if the insurgents were allowed to go ahead in their fight against the rules it might interfere with an early revision of the tariff.

Thus President Taft has expressed his desire that the tariff be revised under the guidance of Uncle Joe, who stands shoulder to shoulder with Dalzell and Payne and Aldrich.

"If out of this situation," says The Washington Times, one of the representative independent newspapers of the East, "revision of the kind the American people want is to be secured, it will be only by such an uprising and demonstration of popular opinion as has seldom been known."

"It is not easy to understand and agree with the reasoning which discovers that the retention of the Cannon control in the House is necessary in order to get revision. This is the argument advanced in behalf of the Speaker's continuance in control of the House. It would be well if more of the leadership in the Republican party could be led to believe that cataclysm is certain if the revision shall not be effective and downward. The country is in a frame of mind marvelously and suggestively similar to that with which the Republican tariff bill of 1890 was received. And on that bill as an issue the House went about ninety Democratic."

Both the insurgents and leading Democrats deny emphatically that the fight to transfer the appointment of committees from the chair to the House is for the purpose of delaying tariff revision.

"That is a ghost which has been conjured up to scare people who have not fully informed themselves about the situation," said Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, representing the Republican insurgents. "The fact is that tariff revision is quite as safe, and perhaps safer, if we go ahead and win the fight to improve the rules, than if we lose."

Champ Clark of Missouri, the minority floor leader, used even more vigorous language.

"There is no let-up so far as I know," he said, "to reform and liberalize the rules of the House. The statement that it is an attempt to prevent tariff legislation is a lie. I don't care who makes the statement. It is a lie."

"The anxiety of the old stand-pat crowd to expedite a bill revising the tariff down is the most pathetic thing that has happened in this world since Mark Twain wept at the tomb of

LIVELY SCRIMMAGE IN TENNESSEE CHURCH

WARRANTS HAVE BEEN ISSUED FOR PARTICIPANTS.

Church Divided Into Two Factions Whose Opposition Culminated In Free Fight.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 12.—Warrants galore have been sworn out before a justice of the peace as a result of a fight at Zion Lutheran church in the Twenty-fifth district of this county.

Recorder J. C. Miller of Park City, a suburb of Knoxville, acts as preacher at Zion church, and started legal proceedings by swearing out a warrant for Sol McCammon on the charge of disturbing public worship. McCammon in turn swore out warrants for more than a half dozen members and for the preacher, the last named charging assault and battery, owing to the fact that McCammon was forcibly ejected from the church. Preliminary hearings have been waived and the trouble has, therefore, not been aired before the justice.

It seems that there has been a split in the church for years. Some say it is on the question of sanctification, while others claim that the cause of the latest trouble was a dispute over who were entitled to vote in a church election. McCammon seems to be the leader of one faction, and the preacher of another. They were the principals in a physical encounter, in which McCammon was ejected from the church. Several of the adherents of each are said to have taken part in the fight and developments were lively for a time.

Adam. They have been dragged by the neck into the tariff revision performance."

The question is, "Will the Republican insurgents really insurgre when the test comes Monday?" And another equally important one is, "Will the Democrats all be in place when the roll is called?"

Champ Clark yesterday sent telegrams and letters to all Democratic members out of town begging them not to fail to be on hand at the caucus Monday morning, and by no means to agree to any pair with anybody.

The whip of the Cannon organization conceded last night that the insurgents have twenty-two men who will stand hitched.

Yesterday the Cannon men declared that there would be only nine insurgents. It will take only twenty-four insurgents, if all the Democrats are present. George Legare, from South Carolina, is sick in bed in New Mexico, so it will take twenty-five, but Cannon, with the assistance of the official ple dispenser of the administration, Mr. Hitchcock, is out to buy Democrats to stay away, and last night Cannon was pinning his chief hopes upon so-called turn-coat Democrats.

The insurgent leaders claim that they have twenty-seven men they are sure will stick, and that there are seven or eight others who are doubtful, with rebellious tendencies. The hope of the Democratic and insurgent leaders now is that the insurgents will show enough strength on Monday to cause a deadlock in the election of Speaker for one day. If they do it is believed there will be such a flood of telegrams pouring into Washington, especially from the West, to vote against Cannon that there will be a panic in the hall.

Some are expressing the hope that the insurgents, having now crossed the Rubicon, will be forced even to vote for Champ Clark for Speaker. But that is the idlest dream. Anyway, there is something doing in Washington, and will be for the next several days.

After a conference held last night by the insurgents of the House of Representatives, those attending declined to discuss the conclusions reached at

WIRZ SHAFT WILL GO TO ANDERSONVILLE

After Stormy Session Daughters of the Confederacy of Georgia Cast One-Sided Vote.

ATLANTA, March 12.—By a vote of 125 to 79 the Georgia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy yesterday decided on Andersonville as the location for the monument to Capt. Wirz, having earlier in the day rescinded its former action in voting the monument to Richmond, Va.

The final decision to erect the shaft on the west side of the prison where Capt. Wirz, C. S. A., was commandant during the Civil War was reached only after a long stormy session.

The vote stood as follows. Andersonville, 125; Macon, 65; Americus, 5.

Thus ended a matter which has caused great dissension in the ranks of the Daughters in this State. The special session of the Georgia division held here yesterday was called in response to numerous protests from chapters in all parts of the State against the action of the Savannah convention in voting the monument to a city outside the State.

Andersonville Wanted the Shaft.

A special appeal signed by the mayor and prominent citizens of Andersonville was read to the convention urging that the monument be located there.

The monument will probably be erected on a little plot that has been given for the purpose by the people at Andersonville in front of the office occupied by Capt. Wirz when he was commandant of the Confederate prison there.

The fight for the shaft was particularly hot between Macon and Andersonville, after it had been decided to take the monument away from Richmond, and as against Macon, the Augusta, Savannah and Columbus chapters voted solidly for Andersonville.

Park's Speech a Sensation.

A sensation was caused in the meeting by the speech of Lemuel M. Park, chairman of the advisory board of the Daughters of the Confederacy, whose request to be heard was granted. He was particularly bitter in his denunciation the meeting. It is known that the proposition to compromise did not meet with general approval. A program for the parliamentary procedure for Monday was agreed upon, but was not made public. Chairman Gardner said after the conference:

"The meeting voted unanimously to give the tariff bill the right of way and decided upon a program embodying a definite plan for a thorough revision of the rules. This program ation of Corporal Tanner, nor did he spare the head of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. A. R. The Daughters made a special request that his remarks be not quoted by the press.

The action taking the monument from Richmond came at the morning session following the organization of the convention, which took some time. Miss Alice Baxter, the president, was in the chair. The hall in the Piedmont was filled with delegates and there was much suppressed excitement.

Mrs. J. S. Harrison of Columbus moved that the convention dissolve forthwith, leaving the monument in Richmond. This motion was voted down by an overwhelming majority. Miss Millie Rutherford of Athens then moved that the action of the convention at Savannah placing the monument in Richmond be rescinded. This motion was carried by a large majority after very little discussion.

Mrs. Grady of Savannah then read a paper offering Andersonville as a site. Miss Ida Holt of Macon proposed that city, and Mrs. Estes of Americus urged that place.

Mrs. Harrison's Appeal.

Mrs. N. B. Harrison made an urgent plea in behalf of Andersonville and Miss Holt followed, opposing Andersonville on the ground that if the monument were placed there it would be surrounded with an atmosphere of antagonism and that the responsibility for what might happen should not be placed on the U. D. C.'s of Georgia and the South. Miss Murphy of Gainesville and Miss Atkins of Cordele both spoke for Andersonville as the logical site. They were supported by Mrs. Ralph of Augusta.

Mrs. Nesbit of Marietta declared that if the monument were placed at Andersonville its educational value would be lost because so few people would see it. Miss Moore of Macon made the last speech of the morning session against Andersonville. The final action was taken at the afternoon session.

will not be made public until Congress is organized."

Making Improvements.

Judge Syd L. Carter is having his residence in East Gainesville repaired and otherwise improved. As soon as the carpenters have completed their work he intends having the whole of the building repainted, when it will be one of the handsomest homes in that section.

Judge G. A. Hanson Dead at His Home in Tampa

TAMPA, March 12.—Judge G. A. Hanson, one of Tampa's long-time residents and prominent men, died Wednesday morning after a protracted illness.

Judge Hanson was for a number of years prominent in this section as a lawyer and journalist. He was at one time editor of The Bartow Courier-Informant and later, moving to Tampa became editor of The Tampa Tribune. He was a Tennessean by birth but many years ago moved to Florida, settling in Polk county, where he followed the profession and practice of law, as well as engaging in editorial work. He moved to Tampa several years ago and has until within the past two years been active in his profession.

About two years ago he became ill and has been confined to his house most of the time since. Judge Hanson was 74 years of age. He leaves a widow and the following near relatives, a daughter, Mrs. C. N. Taylor of Memphis, Tenn.; a son, G. A. Hanson, Jr., a sister, Mrs. L. Hall of Kissimmee; a daughter, Mrs. B. F. Bonfacy of this city.

The funeral, which was a very large one, attended by many of the representative citizens of this section, took place yesterday afternoon from the First Methodist church, with Revs. W. J. Carpenter, B. K. Thrower, W. K. Piner and W. M. Poag officiating. The interment was in Oaklawn cemetery.

Mrs. Harris Seriously Burned on Thursday

Mrs. Mary Harris, an aged white lady residing near Hague station, was the victim of a serious accident that will cause her much pain for some time to come.

She was busily engaged in raking and burning trash at her home when in some manner the back of her skirts became ignited from the pile of burning trash and she was a mass of flames before she realized the bad plight that she was in. On discovering her misfortune she made a dash to run, but George Harrison and son, who were passing, saw the accident before the lady did and started toward her to render assistance. It was some minutes before they could reach her and snatch the burning garments from her body, and in the meantime the clothing had burned completely the whole of her back, leaving only the bare skin.

By hard work the flames were kept from reaching her face, but she is now in a very serious condition. All of her back and sides are burned to a blister, and the fact that she was running, fanning the flames behind her, had a great deal to do with keeping them from the front and her face.

She is a lady of about 50 years of age, has been a resident of the Hague section for a number of years, and her many friends deeply sympathize with her in her misfortune.

HE JUST FLEW.

Uncle Lil Takes His First Ride in An Automobile.

(By Uncle Lil.)

It took me a long time to make up my mind to take my first ride in one of those everlasting gas carriages. So yesterday morning I made my way to the square with 20 cents in my pocket to make a round trip to the University. The Red Automobile was standing in front of Miller & Vidal's and looked harmless enough. I asked the driver lots of questions about the horse-power of his magneto and the length of his sizz wheel, and others. I fooled him completely, made him believe I knew all about it. At last we were ready to start and he began to wind the thing up, he wound and wound until I was afraid he would break the main spring. At last he whispered something strong and important, and at once it began to cough and shake as if it had the chills and fever. The driver jumped to his seat before it had time to get away from him and away we sailed towards the University. I happened to be the only passenger on that trip and I felt as rich as John D. Rockmoran or William K. Astor. I was certain that at last I had discovered a sure cure for my rheumatics, my asthma and my heart trouble. Everything was lovely until we passed the Elk's Club, then things began to happen. We moved faster and faster until I was sure it was running away with us. I asked the shooferman about it, but that beathen in leather cap only smiled at me. He done something with the brass lever, give the wheel a twist and then we left the earth altogether and began to fly. We touched the earth just six times between the University and the G. & G. depot. When we touched terra-cota the first time I fell down on my knees and remained so for the rest of the jour-

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Old Folks Should be Careful in Thier Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will cure these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry, relax muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward, thus stimulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They also remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. 36 tablets 25c, and 12 tablets 10c. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

ney. "Stop it, I tell you, stop it." I hollered, but the words were left so fast behind that I did not hear them myself. Next I tried to pray, but could not think of anything suitable for the occasion. When all at once we were standing still right at the corner of the University building and that idiot asking me if I was going to ride back to town with him? "Never again—n-e-v-e-r—you ple-faced, bow-legged, cross-eyed Dutchman." Of course he did not hear me say that; I said: "No, thank you, I think I'll walk back."

Furniture for Temple.

The first carload of handsome furniture for the elegant new Masonic Temple has arrived and some provision will have to be made for its reception at once.

For some cause or other the contractors have been delayed in the completion of this work and it now looks as if they will not be ready for at least four weeks to turn the building over to the Masons.

The first consignment of furniture is of the very latest and best that could be purchased, and when these people get in their new home there will not be a temple outside of Jacksonville that can compare with the home of the Masons of Gainesville.

While the delay in turning over the building will necessarily be a hardship to them, they have every assurance that it will come up to all of their expectations when the same has been completed.

There will be one or two more cars of furniture to come in and it is looked for now at any time, therefore some provision will have to be made for its storage.

All of their old furniture will remain in Castle Hall, over the Dutton Bank, they having sold that to the other lodges remaining in the building.

BASEBALL FRIDAY.

Freshies Triumph Over the Sophs. by Score of 8 to 7.

Those who attended the baseball game yesterday afternoon between the Sophomore and Freshmen classes of the University were well pleased.

The game was marked by the great number of brilliant plays by Vidal for the Sophs, and Glover Taylor for the Freshies. Vidal's sensational slide to third base brought joy to the hearts of the Sophs, but the joy soon vanished when Glover Taylor made a one-handed stab in left field.

The game was very close from beginning to end. In the seventh inning the Sophs tied the score, but the plucky little G. Taylor scored the winning run for the Freshies in the ninth inning, thus winning for his team the laurels of the day.

The score by inning was as follows:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Freshies 0 0 2 2 0 0 2 1 1—8

Wormology.

Should be studied by every parent. If your child is nervous, fretful, starts in it's sleep, is pasty faced, has rings under its eyes, always seems hungry, is not gaining weight, you can be sure the trouble is worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is an absolute cure for worms. Is it's own purgative. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENCY.

(Pensacola News.)

Since the publication of the editorial Saturday entitled "A Heart to Heart Talk With the Board of Control" The Evening News has been in receipt of numerous letters from people in this section of the State commending The Evening News for the position taken in this important matter, and urging a continuance of the fight for the selection of a man at Gainesville who can produce the desired results.

Several of the writers object to the reference to President Murphree as a "degreeless professor," and think that perhaps by doing so The Evening News, to some extent, prejudiced his case.

The Evening News was fully aware of the titles possessed by President Murphree, and should perhaps have made mention of these degrees, but the impression has been gained generally that it was the policy of the Board of Control to secure men for these high positions who possessed only the higher degrees.

When the Board of Control made its first selection of a president at Gainesville Dr. Murphree was urged as a proper man for the place, and it was said at the time, whether with or without foundation, that the Board of Control did not feel like electing a man who did not possess the degree of LL. D. The point The Evening News attempted to bring out forcibly in the editorial mentioned was that President Murphree, without high degrees, could accomplish more as a practical, broad-minded builder than the man with the long string of degrees but without that executive ability so necessary in the accomplishment of the work that had, and has yet, to be done at Gainesville.

President Murphree has long had the right to add "L. I.," "A. M.," and "A. B." after his signature, and a few weeks ago he was given the degree of LL. D. "on the grounds of his broad scholarship, and his great service to the cause of higher education in Florida."

We understand the Board of Control failed to take definite action on the matter of the selection of a president of the University at its meeting a few days ago, and The Evening News sincerely trusts that it will weigh carefully the matters presented by it before any final action is taken. If there is ever to be a change at Gainesville now is the time, and, in our humble opinion, Dr. Murphree is the man.

INVALUABLE FREE GIFTS.

In the almost forgotten, but once widely popular "Looking Backward," Bellamy developed the theory that when a nation took able-bodied men from another nation, it should give that nation credit for the value of the men. Nothing, in fact, is more surprising than the way nations which have known better have parted with their best blood and sinew, and in this respect no nation in the world has benefited by the short-sightedness of its neighbors like the United States.

In this time of loose talking and warlike demonstration, it is refreshing to find Professor Ladd of Yale pointing out that Japan has every reason, for her own sake, to keep her intelligent labor at home. The country is not a large one, but he says that the northern island, Honshu, is practically a virgin field in the matter of its natural resources, and we know that Japan has the good fortune to possess valuable undeveloped deposits of copper, iron ore and coal. Perhaps in this fact may be seen the reason why the Japanese government has shown such an even temper in the face of irritating demonstrations in California.

Overpopulation is by no means always the reason for emigration. The population of Ireland, for instance, declined from something over eight millions in the beginning of the last century to not much better than four millions, within a period of sixty years. If Ireland could once support eight millions of people, there is no question that it can now. But misgovernment, which enlightened British statesmen now deplore, took the heart out of the people and left them eager to seek new conditions more congenial to their temperament and aspirations. Nothing, in fact, can be more distressing than the way land reclaimed at great expense a century ago has gone back in the absence of cultivation from arable to pasture, from pasture to sedge, and from sedge to bog. The whole process may be seen even now in active operation throughout Mayo and other counties of the west and south of Ireland.

It might even be calculated in dollars and cents that a nation loses just so much by the emigration of an able-bodied man, and the sum of this depletion may easily be carried into the hundreds of millions. It is plain that the Japanese government recognizes the problem and the danger. Not only does it lose by the emigration of its able-bodied workers, but there remains behind an increasing proportion of the incompetent, aged and deformed, while a growing preponderance of the female in sundry population returns is one of the results well-known to the historical economist.

There is, in this attitude of Japan, a strong argument for peace. England positively encouraged emigration from Ireland, and misgovernment drove valuable citizens away from many countries, as modern history shows. Perhaps the best instance is that of the French Huguenots after the Edict of Nantes. They crossed the Channel to found the silk industry in England, or, emigrating to South Africa in the seventeenth century, became in the course of time more Boer than the Boers themselves.

Russia is committing this act of inconceivable folly by sheer misgovernment. With half a continent waiting for development, she is driving her citizens to America; while throughout German Poland, Southern Italy and Asiatic Turkey the same movement is in progress. What will happen when all three races are absorbed into a general American type only history can show. In the meantime we are getting for nothing the life's blood of other races.

FORESTRY IN CHINA.

China, often called the most backward of nations in the care of natural resources, is to be the scene of a vigorous campaign in the interests of the forests, according to plans for a series of meetings which will be held under the auspices of Boone College, Wuchang, China, at Hankow, Wuchang, and Hanyang. Later there will be meetings in all the large cities and important ports both on the coast and in the interior. Mr. Howard Richards, Jr., the representative in this country of the Chinese college, has been collecting material for these courses, and has just started to China. Several of the photographs showing the effect of deforestation in China, which accompanied the President's last annual message to Congress, form a part of a set of stereopticon views which will be used in illustrating these lectures.

of her forests than any other nation of the earth, and this movement to awaken in its people a realization of the importance of the forest comes at an opportune time. Many parts of China are practically desert wastes as a direct result of the destruction of its trees. On account of the erosion which followed the removal of trees from the slopes, farmers are compelled to terrace their hillsides, in order to hold enough soil in place for farming, and to build little walls across the valleys to catch the silt which the annual floods deposit. Two centuries ago, many regions of China which are now barren, were paying revenue to their owners. Now the wood supply is so scarce that little poles are used for building houses, and roots and saplings are burned as fuel.

Over three hundred Chinese students from eleven provinces are being educated in Boone College for the uplift of their country, and it is expected by those in charge of the proposed course of lectures that a movement started there will in time spread throughout the empire.

Appleyard, editor and proprietor of The Lake City Index, and secretary of the Florida Press Association, has purchased the plant of the Capital City Publishing Company, and will take charge of it on April 5, on the eve of the assembling of the Florida Legislature. It is understood that the State printing, including the daily journal of the House and Senate, will be printed by Col. Appleyard, who has not only a thorough knowledge of styles of State printing, but is also one of the best practical printers in the State.—Times-Union.

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The travel over the Florida East Coast is at present the heaviest in the history of the road. Not only is the number of tourists handled daily a record, but also the freight volume is worked to its greatest capacity. Enormous trainloads of vegetables are being shipped along the East Coast daily and express trains are in service. The truck growers along the lower East Coast are harvesting large crops already and the shipping season has hardly begun as yet.

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Simple Remedy for Lagrippe.

Lagrippe coughs are dangerous, as they frequently develop into pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs so that no serious results need be feared. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Doing Their Duty.

The Teacher—Children, we make heroes of ourselves by doing our duty. Perry's duty was to whip the British and he did it. The light brigade's duty was to attack the Russians without question, and they did it. All great heroes won their victories by doing their duty. Children, we have our duties. What should we do for the weak, the suffering, the oppressed?

Chorus of Pupils—Sail in an' lick 'em!—Cleveland Leader.

Lovers

So long as you keep your liver, bowels and stomach in a healthy and active condition you won't get sick. Ballard's Herbine relieves constipation, inactive liver and all stomach and bowel troubles. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Talkative One.

Nearsighted Guest (at banquet)—I presume the next thing will be a long and tiresome speech from some talkative guy. Man Sitting Next—Oh, I suppose so. I'm the talkative guy that has to make the speech.—Chicago Tribune.

A Swollen Jaw

Her Claim.

Mrs. Gillet—So there is a tablet in your transept for her memory. Did she do anything to bring people into the church? Mrs. Perry—Well, I guess! She wore a new hat every Sunday for three years.—Harper's Bazar.

A Religious Author's Statement.

Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Of noise alone is born the inward sense of silence, and from action springs alone the inward knowledge of true love and faith.—MacDonald.

How can any person risk taking some unknown cough remedy when Foley's Honey and Tar costs them no more? It is a safe remedy, contains no harmful drugs, and cures the most obstinate coughs and colds. Why experiment with your health? Insist upon having the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. J. W. McCollum & Co.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trade with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 7

The Cannon That Modernized Japan

By Herbert Kaufman.

Business is no longer a man to man contact, in which the merchant and the patron establish a personal bond, any more than battle is a hand-to-hand grapple, where bone and muscle and sinew decide the outcome. Trade as well as war has changed in its aspect—both are now fought at long range.

Just as a present day army of heroes would have no opportunity to display the individual valor of its members, just so a merchant who counts upon his personal acquaintanceship for success is a relic of the past—a business dodo.

Japan changed her policy of exclusion to foreigners after a fleet of warships battered down the Satsuma fortifications. The Samurai, who had hitherto considered their blades and bows good enough, discovered that one cannon was mightier than all the swords in creation if they could not get near enough to use them. Japan profited by the lesson. She did not wait until further ramparts were battered to pieces, but was satisfied with her one experience and proceeded to modernize her methods.

The merchant who doesn't advertise is pretty much in the same position as that in which Japan stood when her eyes were opened to the fact that times had changed. The long range publicity of a competitor will as surely destroy your business as the cannon of the foreigners crumbled the walls of Satsuma. Unless you take the lesson to heart, unless you realize the importance of advertising, not only as the means of extending your business but for defending it as well, you must be prepared to face the consequences of a folly as great as that of a duelist who expects to survive in a contest in which his adversary bears a sword twice the length of his own.

Don't think that it's too late to begin because there are so many stores which have had the advantage of years of cumulative advertising. The city is growing. It will grow even more next year. It needs increased trading facilities just as it's hungry for new neighborhoods.

But it will never again support neighborhood stores. Newspaper advertising has eliminated the strength of being locally prominent, and five cent street car fares have cut out the advantage of being "around the corner." A store five miles away can reach out through the columns of the daily newspaper and draw your next door neighbor to its aisles, while you sit by and see the people on your own block enticed away without your being able to retaliate or supply new customers to take their place.

It is not a question of your ability to stand the cost of advertising but of being able to survive without it. The thing you have to consider is not only an extension of your business but holding what you already have.

Advertising is an investment, the cost of which is in the same proportion to its returns as seeds are to the harvest. And it is just as preposterous for you to consider publicity as an expense as it would be for a farmer to hesitate over purchasing a fertilizer if he discovered that he could profitably increase his crops by employing it.
